Sell 4-H Animals at Fair

Steuben County 4-H members sold 79 market animals at the 15th annual 4-H Livestock Sale during the Steuben County Fair.

The market steers, hogs and lambs sold were previously judged in the 4-H portion of the fair. The livestock sale has been an annual highlight of the county fair and also is the culmination of the 4-H livestock project year.

"Shawn", the grand champion steer, was purchased by P&C Food Markets of Syracuse, of $1.50 per pound. Consigned by Margie Gray of Springwater, "Shawn" had earlier been named grand champion of the 30-head 4-H steer show. The reserve champion steer was consigned by Jennifer Cisco of Lindley, and was also purchased by P&C Food Markets at $1.15 per pound. The 26 4-H market steers averaged 77 cents per pound and had been judged earlier by Bill Greene, Cornell University Extension beef specialist.

Hatfield Packing of Hatfield, Pa., purchased the grand champion 4-H market hog at $3.00 per pound. The champion, "John Porkdexter," was consigned by Ryan Emo of Bath. The reserve champion market hog was also purchased by Hatfield Packing for $2.50 per pound. The reserve champion, "Calvin Swine," was consigned by Stacia Emo of Bath. The 27 4-H hogs averaged 93 cents per pound.

David Rockwell of Greenwood sold "Lucy" the grand champion 4-H market lamb to D.K. Abbey Marketing Inc., Manlius, for $4.25 per pound. The reserve champion lamb, "Alexander," was consigned by Brenda Tucker of Painted Post, and was purchased by Pirrung Auctioneers of Wayland for $5.00 per pound. Both lamb champions established new record prices for the 4-H livestock sale. The 27 market lambs sold for an average of $1.40 per pound.

The sale was conducted by Pirrung Auctioneers Inc. of Wayland, assisted by members of the 4-H Livestock sale committee including Sharon Maynard, Campbell, chairman; Chris Wheaton, Jasper, sale clerk and Steve Stewart, Bath, secretary. Sarah Gray of Springwater gave the pre-sale welcome.

A market hog donated by Kristen Stewart and Brookside Farm of Bath was purchased by Caton Community Market for $2.05 per pound. Proceeds from the donated animal will benefit the Steuben County 4-H Activity Fund.

Young Pair In Royal Fest Roles

Michael Wallace and Brittney Bauer reigned over the Wayland Potato Festival as official prince and princess.

Michael is the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Wallace of Wayland and Brittney is the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bauer, also of Wayland. Benjamin Spencer, five, of Wayland, and Sarah Kincannon, six, of Springwater were the runners-up. The event was directed by Jean Ann Drumm.

The longest continuous peel wins the Potato Peeling Contest and the following were successful in their age group: nine and under, Mike Mueller of Rochester; 10-14, Dan Pratt of Dansville; 15-19, Charles Ives of Springwater; and 20 and up, Victoria Gilman of Wayland. Elaine Scott and Jerrie Briggs directed the contest.

Winners of the Mashed Potato Eating Contest by age group were: nine and under, Kristi Bouck of Wayland; 10-14, Dan Pratt of Dansville; 15-19, Michael Grasby Jr. of Wayland; and age 20 and up, Mike Barnhardt of Dansville. Donna Belanger and Jerrie Briggs guided this activity.

Debbie Wood won a 50-pound sack of salt potatoes for guessing 376 potatoes were in the bag on Saturday—with an actual count of 378. There was a tie so the winner was drawn. On Sunday, Shirley Jones won a bag with an exact guess of 389.

Programs Scheduled In Library

Talk It Over resumes at the Wayland Free Library Friday at 10:30 a.m. with Rev. Paul Schnacky discussing "Parents Need Love and Attention Too".

The popular series began last October in conjunction with the library's Storyhour for three to five year olds and followed through with a similar series in the spring.

Area professionals discuss different subjects of interest to parents of young children during the 45 minutes of Storyhour. All parents and grandparents are welcome at any of the programs whether or not they have children participating in Storyhour including those who bring younger children or infants along. The format is casual with the presenter making a brief statement followed by question and answers and discussion. There is no charge.

Talk It Over is co-sponsored by the Community Youth Services Board and the Library. Programs will be the second Friday of the month from September through May. Nanette Cornie will talk over "Family Fitness" Oct. 9.

County Schedules Food Distribution

The next Steuben County Commodity Food Distribution will take place Thursday, Sept. 17.

Commodities being offered are: cheese, cornmeal, instant milk, honey, flour, butter, rice—while supplies last. Only one allotment per household is allowed.

Recipients are asked to bring a grocery bag with them as well as their food distribution I.D. card. (This is the last distribution for your I.D. card. New registration will be during October.)

There are 33 distribution sites county wide. Persons not knowing where to pick up commodities may call SCEOP, Inc. at 776-2125 or 936-8278.

Question Box

Q. My husband was injured at work about 6 months ago. He just recently filed for Social Security disability benefits. How long will it take before we are notified if his application for benefits is approved?

A. Allow 2-3 months. You'll be notified by mail. The actual time it takes to process his claim depends, for the most part, on how long it takes to get medical reports and other information. And if special tests or examinations are required, his claim could take longer.

Q. I am a widow with an 8-year-old son, who has been blind since birth. We get payments under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program. Can my son get SSI payments, too?

A. No. A child cannot get both SSI and Aid to Families with Dependent Children. But, if your child is eligible under both programs, you can choose whichever one is best for your family.
